

THE FURNITURE STORE OF QUALITY

Things That Are New

At this time, just as has always been the case, the really new things in furniture can be found only at this store. Any new article which possesses a real merit may be seen here at the same time that it is shown in the large cities with the exception that we do not charge the same high city prices. Today we call your attention to several new pieces which are worthy of your immediate interest.

For numberless years hand painted pieces have been the acme of the furniture builders art, but as these pieces were invariably constructed of the most costly woods, the prices were almost prohibitive, but now the Simmons Mfg. Company have come forward with an entirely new idea for hand decorated beds, made as they are of tough, cold rolled steel, they are extremely light in weight and so smooth that the decorators are able to turn out all of those beautiful finishes hitherto known only to wood beds. The bed here pictured is a wonder, finished in ebony which is relieved by hand painted scroll with small, delicate flower, its appearance is striking and must be seen to be fully appreciated. The above is but one of many of these new beds which we have in stock and which we cordially invite you to inspect. The prices are extremely low.

MOTHER'S DAY
BLANKS FOR DAY LETTER

Or Short Telegrams Are Provided by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

This is Mother's day. The beautiful thought of setting aside one day in the year to be particularly devoted to one's mother was first suggested by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, who founded the Mother's Day International Association to provide the necessary organized support for the fostering of the movement. Thanks largely to her efforts, Mother's day has become a recognized institution as the day on which each of us should pause to acknowledge our debt of affection and gratitude to "the best mother who ever lived," on which we should be with her if we can, and, if we unfortunately cannot, should make a point of sending her a message of affection and cheer.

PRINCELY SUM

Is Paid by the Coal Companies to Their Men for Work Last of April.

The princely sum of $72,728 was distributed Saturday by the Consolidation Coal Company to its miners and other employees in this end of the region for work done the last two weeks of April. The independent operators paid their men equally as much or more for the same period. The car supply is especially good and all the mines in operation are having all they can do. Most of the coal shipped by the Consolidation company went to the lake trade but a little went to tidewater. The prospect is good for a busy time at the mines the next several months.

Governor's Proclamation

A proclamation to the people of the State of West Virginia, Greeting: In observance of a beautiful custom which has grown up among our people, the suggestion of which originated in the heart and mind of Miss Anna Jarvis, a West Virginia woman, I, Henry D. Hatfield, governor of the State of West Virginia, do hereby designate and set apart Sunday, May 14, to be observed as Mother's Day. It is appropriate that the love and loyalty and fond memories that cluster about the holy estate of motherhood and the relation of mother and child should claim our thoughtful and united consideration and should be accorded the observance of an appointed day. It is meet, too, that we select for this special homage to one of the dearest and sweetest relations of our common humanity a day devoted to the worship of the Eternal and to contemplation of the things that concern our spiritual life.

Let us all on this holy day, as children of God, turn our thoughts to those duties and privileges that grow out of the fact of our common brotherhood, to the furtherance of those activities and forces that make for the well-being and honor of the home, to distinct acts of kindness and loving remembrance of the mother and faithfulness to whom grateful affection is due, to the sending of messages of love and appreciation, which will tend to deepen and perpetuate all family ties.

To this end I call upon all citizens, churches, homes and organizations to enter into the spirit of the observance of Mother's Day, to pay honor and tribute to the home as "the fountain head of the state," for the good of the government and humanity. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the state to be affixed.

Done at the capitol in the city of Charleston, this twelfth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and of the state the fifty-second.

HENRY D. HATFIELD,
Governor.

By the governor,
STUART F. REED,
Secretary of State.

TWO MANY TRIPS GET
MAN INTO COUNTY JAIL

David Morris is Arrested after Making the Seventh One Along Street.

As a result of making too many trips up and down Third street in front of the sheriff's residence Saturday afternoon, David M. Morris, a resident of Mechanic street, is a prisoner in the county jail, charged with violating the Yost law.

John Siers, special county officer, happened to be sitting in a chair on the courthouse lawn as Morris passed along. Soon the officer noticed that Morris was making repeated trips from his home around the corner on Mechanic street and after seven such trips had been made the officer was seized with a suspicion that Morris was engaged in bootlegging.

As the suspicion seemed well grounded, Mr. Siers went out in the street and took the suspect into custody, removing from one of his pockets a pint bottle of whiskey. The officer then searched Morris's residence and found more whiskey there of the same brand. Morris was then taken to jail to await a trial, or hearing, on a charge of having whiskey in a public place.

Dan Roy, a young man of Glen Elk, was badly injured in a fight with Aris Edgell, another young man, in Glen Elk Saturday night. Physicians who came to police headquarters were unable to stop the flow of blood from Roy's head and he was taken to a hospital, where his wound was dressed, and he was then returned to the police station and locked up.

Police Lieutenant Nicholas M. Whyte said that Edgell admitted having struck Roy with a bottle. The cause of the trouble is not known.

FINELY EQUIPPED FOR PROSECUTOR

Ray L. Strother.

Ray L. Strother was born on a farm near Wilsonburg, Harrison county, W. Va., and attended the public schools of the county. When quite young he entered Wesleyan College at Buckhannon, for his preparatory work, doing his college work in the University of West Virginia and Ohio University, at which place he took the degree of bachelor of science. He then entered the University of Michigan for a post-graduate course, graduating with the degree of master of science, entering Yale University for his legal training, and graduating from that university in 1911, with the degree of bachelor of laws.

During all of his college work, he devoted a considerable part of his time to oratory. While at the Ohio University, he many times represented his university in oratorical contests, in which contests he carried off his fair share of laurels for his alma mater and himself. He won first place in these contests for the university and was awarded a medal.

He also served his school while at the University of Michigan as its representative in an inter-collegiate debate.

Mr. Strother was admitted to the bar of this county in 1911. Since that time he has given his undivided attention to the practice of his profession and has won for himself a reputation among the members of his profession and the public at large, of being a man of integrity and good judgment, with a profound knowledge of the law. Here is a man with a scientific education as well as a legal one, a man of broad intellectual attainments, a man well versed in the practical branches of knowledge, a man with a well-trained mind, who is able to look at a question from all points of view, in an unbiased and non-partisan manner, and this is the man who is now before the Republican voters of Harrison county, asking their support in the coming primary election for the nomination of prosecuting attorney.

It is the conviction of his friends and supporters that Ray L. Strother would meet all the requirements of the office and would fill the same to the satisfaction of the people and with credit to himself, and that he is the candidate for the Republican voters of Harrison county to work for and vote for, believing that he is the man best fitted to make the fight before the people in the November election for prosecuting attorney for Harrison county.

He is spending a few weeks at Chambersville, O., and from there she will go to points in Pennsylvania, after which she will join Mr. Gibbons in Texas, where he is employed in the Red river oil fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waller have returned from Huntington, where he represented the local snappers organization at the annual meeting of the West Virginia State Federation of Labor convention.

Clinton Doak, a venerable resident of the headwaters of Flint, near here, and a pioneer citizen, is reported critically ill, and his recovery is reported doubtful.

Mrs. C. Earl Meredith and daughter, Evelyn Agnes, returned Saturday evening from a four weeks' visit with relatives at Morgantown.
